AIRY: Easy on the ears

Teufel presents the new generation of AIRY Bluet

The new AIRY Bluetooth headset: lightweight, stylish and, of course, powerful

Berlin, 4.12.2018 - How can we make a good thing even better? This running theme in Teufel's speaker product development was also kept in mind when creating the new edition of the popular AIRY on-ear Bluetooth headphones. Compared to its predecessor of the same name, all features have been revised and improved: wearing comfort, functionality, battery life, design and sound.

Stylish, lightweight, powerful

The new AIRY is available in either black or white. For further individualisation, three pairs of rubber rings in red, yellow and green are included, which are inserted between the auricle and ear cushion. In addition, the ear cushions can be exchanged. We have a set with four pairs of cushions and three pairs of rings in different colours available to buy separately (AIRY Color Kit, £29.99). With a weight of only 165 g plus a folding mechanism, the AIRY is ultra-compact and as light as a feather - making it the perfect companion for an active lifestyle. Two 40 mm HD drivers together with the effective external noise cancellation through the soft ear cushions ensure excellent sound with crisp, deep bass. Bluetooth 4.2 with apt-X® is used for the best possible wireless sound transmission.

Plays for 30 h ... and even longer

With up to 30 hours playing time in wireless Bluetooth mode, the AIRY doesn't run out of breath so quickly. And if you run out of juice, the AIRY can also play without power via the supplied 3.5 mm jack cable. Only one hour of charging is enough to provide a playing time of about 15 hours, and the AIRY is fully charged after only two hours.

Elegant and practical

A timeless style and practical benefits are not mutually exclusive - the AIRY offers both. A volume wheel and buttons for skip/back and play/pause are built into the right earpiece. A hands-free function is also available and the language assistant (Google Assistant or Siri) can be activated by pressing the play/pause button twice.

Price, delivery and availability

The new AIRY can now be ordered on the Teufel webshop at www.teufelaudio.com for £139.99. In addition to the headphones, the delivery includes a USB charging cable, a fabric-covered jack cable, three pairs of coloured rubber rings for customisation and a practical travel bag.

Available now at www.Teufelaudio.com for 1,599,99 Euros
